

kid's art class

with Jeanne Henderson

Join artist Jeanne Henderson for a kids art class that encourages creativity, imagination, and self-expression in a fun and supportive environment. Designed for children of all skill levels, the class introduces a variety of art techniques and materials while helping students build confidence in their creative abilities. Through guided projects and open-ended exploration, children develop fine motor skills, problem-solving abilities, and an appreciation for art. Most importantly, the class provides a positive space where kids can experiment, have fun, and take pride in their unique creations.
